Global Mobile Vision: Europcar Car Hire reclaims cars from GMV office

Today, Murray's Europcar, blocked exits to Global Mobile Vision offices at Unit D.

After a short time they removed a number of cars that had been on hire by Global Mobile Vision management/staff.

When I contacted Murray's Europcar hire for a quote, a representative confirmed that they did go to the Global Mobile Vision offices, and also GMV Interactive offices to seize vehicles. The Europcar representative said they have leased 12 cars to GMV and GMV Interactive.

These vehicles ranged from small family cars to luxury Mercedes and BMW cars.

I asked the representative if they had sought payment from Global Mobile Vision/Global Mobile Vision Interactive for these vehicles, and they confirmed this. "They sent us a cheque and and it bounced."

Europcar gave them one hour in which to collect all keys for the recovered cars, and also as a final chance, to pay the monies owed. When they collected the keys, no money was paid, so they removed the cars and left.

Global Mobile Vision have been given until 4:30PM today to return all other cars.

The person said that the outstanding bill is "large outstanding bill, 5 figure sum". Europcar still have not been paid.

The representative said they have not yet decided whether they should take legal action.

In closing the person said "its not fair to us. We have given them a brilliant service".

The representative wanted to comment that it was important that this information should be put into the public media, to warn other companies who have dealt with/are dealing with Global Mobile Vision.

This is the second, possibly more, company that has seen it necessary to pursue Global Mobile Vision for payment of services or removal of services.

Recruitment company, IT Talent, which sourced workers for GMV between September and December 2004, has begun a High Court action against Global Mobile Vision for unpaid debt.

IT Talent stopped providing recruitment services to Global Mobile Vision in December, “due to concerns voiced by candidates already working for Global Mobile Vision regarding payment of salaries”, said a company spokesman.

“This was compounded by the fact we ourselves found it difficult to obtain company information to facilitate invoicing”.

This I believe is a significant success in finding out what is really happening at this company.

I do hope that all employees will be paid their due payments.
