Warrant issued to arrest YBN International Ireland directors

After being on holidays for the past two weeks and also as a lack of publishable content regarding Global Mobile Vision I have not published any

As an update to this story, I noticed this morning in yesterday's Irish Times Business section the Irish Times have run a side piece regarding YBN International Ireland Ltd, a company which is connected to Global Mobile Vision/GM Interactive.

Transcript of the article follows:

Warrant issued to arrest directors

A warrant for the arrest of two company directors was issued by Judge Alison Lindsay in the Circuit Civil Court yesterday.

John King, solicitor for HRM Recruitment Group, Fitzwilliam Square, Dublin, told the court that Esther Crownborne, and Deborah King, both of The Boulevard, French Park, Dublin 5, had ignored a court order. He said the court had directed them as directors of YBN International Ireland Ltd., Nangor Road, Crumlin, Dublin, to attend court yesterday to face cross-examination to ascertain the income of their company, but they had failed to turn up.

Earlier the court heard that judgement for €31,000 and €590 costs had been obtained against YBN International by HRM Recruitment.

Judge Lindsay said she would issue a warrant for the arrest of both women and direct gardaí to bring them to court to show why they should not be committed to prison for contempt of court.

This is quite a turn up for the books in regard YBN International Ireland Ltd. YBN International was a streaming broadcast company that was bought by a group of people. Since then it has changed directors.

The sellers of the YBN company are in legal proceedings against GMV due to alleged non-full payment of due monies, after the sale of YBN.

Both Esther Crownborne, and Deborah King are involved with Global Mobile Vision, the company who was being investigated by the Department of Enterprise from the Irish government, for “allegations of harassment and bullying”.

Esther Crownborn is the domain registrant of GMVINTERACTIVE.COM, another of the Global Mobile Vision domainnames.

This is another case where a recruitment company has sued YBN International or GMV for loss of earnings. Village Magazine, on the 18th of June, ran a story regarding IT Talent, as one of the many companies now looking for payment from GMV.

And as always, this is published from a reputable news source!

The arrogance of these people is incredible .

Do they think that the law does not apply to them .

What did they think would happen by ignoring court orders .

2. HRM Says:

July 18th, 2005 at 8:44 am

HRM are one of the big recruiters in Ireland.

It appears that they are not going to let this go .

YBN International also has other judgements outstanding against them .

The crownborns are now in the states, and where planning on sending out termination letters to the current employees (allegedly), then open up a new business and send out new contracts(allegedly), the deal being they would stay in america whilst a small bunch of irish staff worked from here with monthly trips to america(allegedly)..Majority of the staff have resigned in the past month, same story as before..their still awaiting payment of wages and expenses...

8. Irate Visioneer Says:

July 19th, 2005 at 4:37 pm

How is this possible that they can walk away like that
All the authorities have been alerted to their activities for months
Court judgements have been made agaist them

Many people have been ripped off by these people

9. ltman Says:

July 20th, 2005 at 4:11 pm

3 wise man has it right that was some cock and bull story about termination letters were only sent out so that we would be rehired, with another compnay and continue to work from ireland (allegedly). This was done allegedly to limit their liability so I was told. Its incredible they can get away with it , lets hope they don't. Senior Mgt was full of it from day one.. should have known then,

This is waht lavell coleman say on their site

What an ironic statement ! I wonder if they get paid at others expense

At Lavelle Coleman we understand the importance of the efficient repayment of debts and offer a comprehensive service to creditors finding themselves with unresolved bad debt problems. Whatever the sum involved we strive to ensure payment of all monies due and owing to the creditor. Initially we will issue a letter of demand, which will be followed up with various courses of action.

We are conscious of the expense of proceedings and will endeavour to negotiate a settlement with the debtor. However, sometimes proceedings must be set in train, and if this is so, our Debt Collection Department have experts in the options open to creditors to procure payment, once judgement is secured including the following:

- Publication of the debt in Stubbs Gazette
- Instructing the Sheriff to seize the debtor's goods
- Obtaining a Judgement Mortgage
- Securing an Order to pay by instalments
- Liquidation
- Bankruptcy

15. Harry Says:

I wonder if they're 'hiding out' in their castle in Athlone. They have sent bs p45's out to employees, with amounts that say they paid all monies due and taxes in full - and they were hand-written! Some of the employees are earned over two months pay still AND the taxes were never paid either! F'ing people should be rotting in prison!

don't lose heart on this matter yet, it's up to THE WEE FOLK to keep putting pressure on and not lie down and accept the way people have been treated. This is the problem in this country we lie down and accept it.

Hearney's investigation ? Why don't you make a phone call and find out, let your voice be heard and that goes for anyone else who this case is of interest to.

KEEPING FIGHTING ON .GOOD LUCK TO YOU ALL.

20. Harry Says:

All ex employees, if the P45 you received is incorrect and you still have not received you payment you need to write to the Tax office asap. Until they receive correspondence from at least 10 ex employees they will not investigate this matter further!

21. Irrate ex-employee Says:

August 1st, 2005 at 7:16 pm

What if you haven't received a p45 yet???

I got one of their stupid letters, no signature, no company directors at the bottom, no vat number or company registration, printed on plain old copy paper!!! Its not worth the paper its printed on.

No money, no p45 no answers!!! What the hell are we all supposed to do. These people have left the country, left a lot of people screwed and a huge debt to many companies. Whats to stop them doing this scamming elsewhere???

They have to be stopped and made be accountable for their crimes because they are criminals at the end of the day!! They have stollen from employees and businesses and are sitting pretty in America while we all run around looking to the TD's and revenue to help us recoup some of our losses!

This must not be allowed to continue as they will do it again.

They must be tracked down.

Has anyone phoned this Alex Fitzgerald, his number is on the website?

What is his part in all of this as his name is associated with the website surely he should be held accountable if he is the contact for these people in this country????

22. Justice Says:

Irrate Ex-employee

Its sounds like you were one of the small group who stayed untill the very end and I really don't understand why. Most people could smell a rat after a few weeks.

I dont really know what you can do if you have'nt got your p45.

There are 25 cases in the labour courts at the moment'some of the people have got calls for the case to be heard in september.

Have you got in contact with anybody in the group who brought this into the open,if you have'nt do so. On the matter of Alex Fitzgerald, why don't you try ringing him yourself and let us know how you get on.

All of these companies are registered to Eshter Crownborn, Paula Esther Crownborn, Deborah King and Deborah May King. No sign of the 2 boys being directors anywhere on here. Also YBN International Ireland Limited is registered as having an office at 9c Beckett Way Parkwest D12.

They seem to have a lot of companies registered but to what aim????

Also there are no phone numbers attached but the Global Mobile Vision one had updated its files on the 25 July 2005 with a change of Directors. It cost 18 pounds to access this extra info and I for one am not willing to waste any more money on this crowd!!!

All this can be found on www.ukdata.com

Is there any other way to find out this sort of info without paying through the nose for it?

Both the Women are registered at Dublin 15 addresses but also at a Pearse St D1 address and a London address. Many pseudos and many faces!!!!

Here's the lowdown on the legals. All the employees will be paid their outstanding wages out of the insolvency fund in the Department of Enterprise. However, the drawback is that the Department only pays out once a liquidator has been appointed! This will probably never happen because none of the creditors will force the issue legally because it would be a waste of time and money. HRH won their case, great, but they will never see a penny because the directors have left the country and there are no assets either. Likewise, a liquidator would only take up an appointment if he thinks there is money in it for him (i.e. assets to be sold). The State itself will eventually pursue a liquidation but it could take up to 10 years. This is the only way we get paid (liquidation, insolvency fund), all other legal routes, the Revenue or publicity will be a waste of time and money. I have a feeling the P45s were sent out to give the impression that everything will be sorted because I can't help feeling that they don't want Esther to be declared bankrupt in Ireland as well (she already has a record in the UK). BTW, Darren has converted to whatever bush religion the Ardeys belong to thus, count him out of any discussion. Waste of time. Faith and Jim Nelson are still in the country. Faith has been spotted regularly picking up GMV's mail at 41, Lower Baggot Street.

If the principals are back in the US, most likely Texas, they I suggest someone gets in touch with Texas State Attorney Generals Office in Austin and makes a complaint.

I dont know how good the SAG's Office is in Texas but I had a very good personal experience with the California SAG Office when dealing with problems like this.

If they cannot help you directly, they will tell you where you can get help.

Here is the main website

<http://www.oag.state.tx.us/index.shtml>

If the principals have any assets in the US then the US legal system makes it very straight -forward to track these people down, get a judgement, and help you recover what they owe you.

I'd like to know where Lori Ross fits into all of this. She is / was the company's lawyer and is also very well connected (US ambassador's wife). If she has also been ripped off by this company, surely she is a force to be reckoned with. If she is still working for the company, then we have a serious scandal on our hands. Anyone know what her status is?

43. Alex Crownborn Jr. Says:

52. ad Says:
August 10th, 2005 at 11:10 am

All of this "call so-and-so on this number" crap is a little late. To the best of my knowledge all of the relevant details were lodged with the relevant people well over a month ago. This would include Rights Commissioners, Office of Corporate Enforcement, Revenue, 2 TDs, Mary Harney etc. etc. Short of kidnapping Bertie and reading out a list of complaints to him there's not a whole lot more people can do or indeed should be expected to do. I've a case myself coming up against them for non-payment of wages which is scheduled for late September, not that I expect any of the GMV people to show up at all, at all.

Basic facts here from what I can see are that the "Crownborns" and their cohorts have legged it, never to return and will probably be trying out a new version of their scam wherever they pitch up next whether it be Florida, the UK, Nigeria, whatever.

The simple explanation for all of this is that they are criminals who know exactly what they are doing and have likely done it before. In my opinion the people who stayed 'til the end as employees are naive and misguided at best and in on some sort of scam or just plain greedy at worst. To be bleating now about your payment when you watched security guards on the door denying ex-employees access is a little rich. The ones who have gone with them to Florida are either totally brainwashed or are in on whatever the next fleecing job is going to be. Pretty simple. Don't think anyone (including myself) is going to get any more money they're owed seeing as they've legged it and there's no assets (as far as I know) remaining to be divvied out. Hardly surprising considering it was a ghost company to begin with that didn't pay its employees or creditors and existed only to swindle money off the nutter christian investors. Some serious questions should probably be asked of their "legal representatives" and a few others somewhere along the line though.

All in all I'd put it down to a cautionary tale. Let the people who are meant to be investigating this do it and otherwise forget about it except to the extent that it'll be a right old laugh when they finally get nailed with their gimpo Irish acolytes in tow. What goes around comes around and with a bunch of nutjobs like that it shouldn't take long.

That's my take on it anyway.

53. Alex Crownborn Jr. Says:

August 10th, 2005 at 2:28 pm

To ad:

Good summary, you put it really well. However, please look at one of my entries earlier, your labour court case (like mine and all the others) will go nowhere but I proceeded with it as it might assist in forcing GMV into liquidation. And that is the way we all get paid out of the insolvency fund (see above). Wouldn't that be the best satisfaction to get, to get paid afterall while the Ardeys/Adlers/Crownborns and Darren, Aisling, etc. are on the breadline in Florida until another Evangelist gives them money to burn which he himself swindled off weak people who think they can find God or whatever else is missing in their life. In the meantime, there has been renewed interest by the gardai and the press and I am sure that Darren will never work in this country again and that the Christian nutter Brendan, Lavelle Coleman and Lori Ross' husband will have some explaining to do to the authorities. You're right, what goes around comes around and while the legals continue in the background let's all continue to work on the insolvency fund situation so that we get some last shillings eventually.

55. Alex Crownborn Jr. Says:

August 10th, 2005 at 5:46 pm

To ad II:

One other thing, you are a small bit harsh on some of the employees who stayed until the collapse. Don't forget, the Crownborns got almost all of the employees from job agencies, i.e. most of them were unemployed before GMV. Thus, it was not a case of being greedy but rather a case of survival and trying to find a new job while GMV lasted. True, you had others like the Evangelists (e.g. Jim Nelson, Avril, Faith), the Loyalists (Aisling, Lori Ross, Fitzgerald) and the Converted Evangelists (Darren) who were in it for other reasons but the majority got ripped off big time. Speaking of being ripped off, the best part of the scam is that the Evangelist nutter (Brendan) who lost over a million to the Crownborns told the gardai that the Crownborns had done nothing wrong! Luckily some of the creditors and authorities do not share his "beliefs". I am sure the new scam is at full swing in the US and Darren has probably been made CEO of GMV Mexico by now.

56. Alex Crownborn Jr. Says:

August 10th, 2005 at 6:22 pm

To add III:

BTW, this guy Brendan owns/runs a shop in Capel Street, D1. Does anybody know the name of the shop? Perhaps Joe Higgins could co-ordinate a picket at the premises. If this guy is happy to hand over a million plus to the Crownborns in order to please his Lord then he may be equally happy to stump up another hundred grand to pay off all outstanding salaries on behalf of his Lord.

TO BREN H

Two words you use DISGRUNTIEES and CHRISTIANS you must have been taught these by the master himself or maybe David Crownborn.

If your little attempt at advertising is an invitation well NO THANKS.

I wonder Mr Bren H if your such a good christian do you think that what all these people have been put through in the last few months at the hands of the Crownborns is right?

“WHO NEEDS MONEY WHEN YOU HAVE GOD” well maybe he’s waiting until christmas because he has’nt arrived to pay any of the bills that these people were left with after being ripped off by YOUR SO CALLED CHRISTIAN FRIENDS’

Yeah, I was a bit peeved with the recruitment agency that set me up with them too. It seemed they pulled the wool over everyone’s eyes, including the recruiters. They way they seemed to have done it was quite clever though:

GMV recruited under the name YBN International. YBN was the company that was then vetted by the agencies - and it would have checked out because it was once a reputable company before it was “bought” (and I use the term loosely) by GMV.

When I got my interview, it was for a company called YBN International, or at least, that was what the recruiter was told. However, my contract was not with YBN. I never worked for YBN so the recruiters couldn’t claim any finders fees for me. At least, that’s how it looks to me - but I’m a techie and not a legal / recruitment expert (clearly not else I’d never have had the misfortune to run into that shower!).

One thing is for certain: these rip-off merchants are not stupid, they are quite adept at side-stepping the law.

There is a meeting on August 30th in Buswells hotel on Molesworth St. to appoint a liquidator I think it's at 11am (someone please confirm). I got a letter about it last week. I won't be able to get to it myself, but I was advised that it is not critical that I attend. The deal is that a liquidator will be appointed to try and sort out the creditors. As somebody stated above, it is very unlikely that any liquidator would touch this because there wouldn't appear to be any money left to pay his/her fee. On the list of people to be paid in case of liquidation, the liquidator is first and the payroll is second.

I can't recall the exact time of the meeting so maybe someone would be able to post more details?

The good thing is that once the liquidator is appointed, the ownership of Paracletes Technologies is turned over to him/her (or the accountancy firm doing it or whatever). At least after that stage we'll have a contact to find out more solid information from.

Is anyone here going to be attending the meeting?

Faith Fisher, is now director of YBN International , chaired the meeting , and was un-ashamedly advised by a solicitor , Brian Bailey of Lavelle Coleman.

Fisher is an employee of GMV UK.

Fisher said she is satisfied with YBN International affairs .

Directors statement of estimated affairs was issued to assembled Creditors.

Bailey seemed to be very confused as to how the board had met and where and how had Esther Crownborn delivered her proxy.

YBN International are now locked out of their registerd offices

Creditors listed included many well know companies and recruitment agencies as well as the collector general.

The meeting was opened to questions.

Apparently Deborah King has resigned , and is feeling ill.
Esther Crownborn was not present and location not revealed .

Ms Fisher attempted to answer various questions about YBN and their activities but apparently not to the satisfaction of the meeting.

Fisher did not seem to be capable of answering explicit questions regarding YBN and its association with GMV and Paracletes

Fisher was not able to account for the misgudence given various companies by YBN International employees Alex Fitzgerald and Jim Nelson.

Fisher was not able to account for the activities of David Crownborn

There was some debate as to the validity of Esther Crownborns proxy.

This was overridden by the chairman of the meeting , Fisher , as advised by Bailey.

The chairman, Fisher, refused to allow the creditors time to meet privately on two occasions.

The Boards candiate as liquidator was appointed

A sham - no ESTHER, no DAVID, just Faith having her chain pulled by the rep of Lavelle Coleman. The guy from Talent recruitment agency tried to expose them as shelf companies set up to absorb debt, but all the questions were met with 'not aware' answers. Faith was pooing her pants, calimed to know all about YBN but had to take the whispered advice from the solicitor to pretty much every question - it was all too much for her! Typical fall guy stuff.

72. Marc Fitz Says:

Bates attempted to access the 'Paracletes' meeting and was told by Mr. Brian Baily of Lavelle Coleman that he would not be allowed into the meeting because he was not an employee of the company but a 'GMV' employee. He then contacted a colleague who requested Bates to proxy for him. His colleague taxied his 'Paracletes' employment contract and payslips to Buswells. Baily again refused Bates access claiming the proxy had to be received by 4pm yesterday; the fact that Ms. Esther Crownborns proxy was not received prior to the meeting or that most of the 'Paracletes' employees were not given any notification of the meeting, nor that the Claims for monies due to both Employees and Creditors are wholly inadequate does not come into it!!?

What an absolute farce, SHAME ON YOU BAILY!

They wanted to keep the creditors of YBN and Paracletes apart, and the meetings down to an absolute minimum in terms of attendance. The guy Brian from the recruitment agency was apparently the only person at both meetings. He told me he was trying to expose both companies as ghosts so that the creditors had cause to go after gmV for their money. Because if this can be proven then the same can be said for gmV. He told me it was clear that YBN and paracletes were using the same facilities, space, electric, staff and for example 6 recruiters on the list of YBN but none on Paracletes? According to him he was making life very uncomfortable for Faith and the Lavelle Coleman solicitor until Gerry Byrne stuck his pipe in 'are we gonna get any money back'.

Wasn't Gerry Byrne a fellow worshipper of the Crownborns and an investor in Paracletes? Not so clever now is he?

Brian from Talent agency said the full story was going to be put on a site called irishdev.com tomorrow.

WOW!!!

I'm amazed (though I shouldn't be) at what's been going on over the past few months!!! I chose to forget about it and move on but in light of the court dates coming up I decided to put in my few thoughts!! Hope I don't bore you!!

I escaped the clutches of "Dr." Crownborn (much to his surprise I think!!!) As you can see I'm not afraid to show who I am because I have done nothing wrong and have nothing to be ashamed of. In hindsight there were many signs to the scam that was unfolding but these "christians" intentionally preyed on the less experienced, recent graduates and lured us with empty promises.....I've certainly learned my lesson but that by know means gives them the right to treat people the way they did!!

I was one of the "lucky" ones to travel with them and witness them in their Christian services and it made me sick to the stomach to see them agreeing with the preachings, nodding their heads in agreement with the sermons about living your life like christians and treating people well, even now I can remember so clearly how they spoke that it was so wrong to "break bread with people" and then insult them behind their backs when all along that's exactly what they were doing. I'm by no means one of these evangelists but I have a certain amount of respect for what they believe and it was sick to watch David and Esther performing for these people, Esther was the worst because I know she said some nasty things behind my back all the time pretending to my face. I think that's the worst part for me in all this, not necessarily the money (which is obviously hugely annoying and desperately needed) it's the way that I was treated, it's the way that they manipulate people and exploit their weaknesses, I'm proud that I stood up to David Crownborn, I can walk away and live with myself knowing that I wasn't weakened in his attempts to bring me into his "Circle of trust" (and believe me he tried). As much as you are all angry at people like Darren, Tara, Ashling or whoever, they all have their own reasons for staying, I can't see why and I feel sorry for them but I'm not going to judge them because I've witnessed David work his "magic" on these people and it's unfortunate for them that they believe his lies and just hope that when they do escape that they won't have lost too much!

There's so much more that I can share but we all have our own stories from this experience just don't let it take over your life, fight for what is ours and hope that the real criminals are brought to the knees (and promise me a front row seat.....man would I love to see it!!) Good luck to everyone that has a court date at the end of September...I'll see you there!!!

77. Alex Crownborn Jr. Says:
August 31st, 2005 at 4:58 pm

Are u telling me that Gerry Byrne showed up as a Paracletes creditor? That's amazing because he and Brendan Hade were the "sole owners" of the various companies and businesses since the only money YBNI, GMV and Paracletes ever had came from those two guys.

I wouldn't be surprised if the Recruitment agencies pursue this further and take Paula Ardey to court for reckless trading. There are so many ex-employees and clients who could testify to this effect that they could easily prove their case.

Speaking of ex-employees, it was interesting to see who is still with them in the GMV US Christian scam. Apart from the usual suspects like Alex Fitz, Holy Jim Nelson and Darren, the meeting also revealed that Lori Ross (I think it is time the press get in touch with the [name edited] Embassy), Tony Casey (real surprise, always thought he was a decent bloke) and Andy Bate (hope he doesn't have to "share" his girlfriend with David in the same way Darren has to) are also still employed by GMV UK Ltd.

78. Not Funny Says:
August 31st, 2005 at 5:45 pm

Lori Ross was recruited by Brightwater apparently .

They have not been paid obviously .
Fitzgerald and Nelson led them on their little no-pay scam

Bailey was very surprised and confused when the Brightwater representative at the meeting told him this.

This was very strange indeed .

79. Barry Paterson Says:
August 31st, 2005 at 9:23 pm

Now that's an interesting point, one Tony Casey still working in GMV. Faith Fisher, recently appointed Director of YBN and Paracletes was asked by a representative of HRM if Tony was an employee of Paracletes (this was in the Paracletes creditors meeting). Her reply was 'he was no longer an employee of Paracletes. I then asked her, in her capacity as Office Administrator to GMV to confirm to the lady from HRM if Tony Casey was an employee of GMV. She replied 'she was not aware if he was' which was the stock answer given to most of the question directed at her.

Are you able to confirm for sure that Tony Casey is working for gmV?

80. Barry Paterson Says:
August 31st, 2005 at 9:34 pm

I would also welcome any comments regarding the activity of YBN and Paracletes.

According to Faith Fisher, and confirmed by Brian Bailey of Lavelle Coleman, there were strategic plans to bring both companies back from the brink.

Infact, Faith read a statement at the beginning of each meeting. The statement relating to Paracletes cited the unfounded and false allegations made in the media being the prominent reason for Paracletes being unable to obtain customers and further funding and hence leading to the downfall of Paracletes.

I personally challenged this point.

If this were why then had GMV not gone down, and why had she not cited this at all for YBN?

I also asked her to explain the 'sales function' of Paracletes and YBN. She said this was the responsibility of Esther and Esther alone.

A one woman exercise??

Quite incredible considering, according to the statement of affairs of YBN and Paracletes that the Crownborns had invested or loaned (even Brian Bailey kept contradicting himself whether the money was loaned or invested) close to €3m!!

81. Alex Crownborn Jr. Says:

August 31st, 2005 at 10:33 pm

Yep, the entire employee situation is quite weird. Some of them were apparently employees of YBNI, some were employed by Paracletes and others were employed by GMV, yet the last payslips and tax documentation of almost all employees showed GMV as the employer. Also, at the creditors meetings GMV was referred to as an UK company by Bailey on numerous occasions however, this is not true. Its Irish reg. no. is 9982723C.

The subject of Tony Casey came up at the YBNI meeting as well and it was a similar scenario as in the Paracletes one above but there was some implicit acknowledgement in Faith Fisher's second response that lead attendees to believe that she was indeed confirming that Tony Casey is still employed by GMV. Brightwater shouldn't drop the Lori Ross scenario either because it is political dynamite (with her husband being a top diplomat at the US embassy) especially if the arrest warrant against Esther Paula Ardey Crownborn is still being upheld at this point in time.

Hi all,

This is all very confusing...If your payslip only ever said Global Mobile Vision on it where does that leave you???? Is GMV different from the others or is it gone into liquidation as well???Where does it leave us all in the long run, will we ever see any monies at all or will they get away with this crap??? As for Faith, silly silly brainwashed girl, why oh why put yourself on the line for someone else like that? ? She'll never work here again! None of them will. And if Tony is still with them and hasn't been paid what a sad day. Is he now part of the cult too???Is Andy???

Any advice would be helpful and why are Lavelle Coleman heading up this case for people who very very obviously don't pay their bills, are they brainwashed as well, caus they won't get paid either!!! Fools.

86. andrew Says:

I'd imagine Lavelle Coleman are being paid in full and have been since the get-go. Any smart criminal nutter would know enough make sure that the first person to pay is the lawyer 'cos they're the ones who bail you out. Screw anyone else.

Anytime i've mentioned Lavelle to anyone at all, in various different circumstances (it's the first time i'd ever heard of them) the reaction was exactly the same. "ooooohhhh.....them...." and nothing direct said but at the very least a very strong hint that they are well known for taking any old case from the dogiest fuckers on earth and not really worrying about it. i'd imagine the 'crownborns' would not exactly be out of keeping with the profile of a lot of their other clients.

anyway, this shit will run and run...people will do strange things in strange situations and well...anyone who's still involved with these wankers, darren et al, knock yourselves out...it's a long way down.

on a random note i'm hoping the claire who posted up above is the artist formerly known as 'clur' 'cos i meet her during my time in that madhouse, thought she was nice person, and was kind of worried about her position after some of her earlier posts. Sooo...if it is the same person then good to have you back, sounds like you had a pretty narrow escape.

right so, that's my lot.

I haven't been involved in any of this for a while (I needed some time to get over it all) but was initially quite shocked to read about the people who are still involved in this farce, but when I thought back on things, I think most of us were aware that all was not right with some of the people working in GMV.

I understand people saying not to judge the people who stayed on but come on, you must realise that your judgement would be questioned in this situation.

Like Claire above (who I'm pretty sure is not 'Clur') I also have no problem showing my name. I have absolutely nothing to be ashamed of and am proud to say I was not prepared to work in such a intimidating atmosphere. I hope all of you who left GMV are doing well and are happy in your new (and I'm sure normal) companies.

Now, regarding the court cases, can anyone explain what will happen, or what we have to bring with us on the day?

if they just paid up in the first place they would not have to bother posting new websites in their defence. the fact that they have not and will not placate those that they have wronged will ultimately be their downfall. all investigations would peter out if they just paid what they owed. If they have the money for hiring solicitors and relocating to their Bohle offices in LA they have the money to pay employees. could someone from GMV please come on and give me a reason why you will not pay?
